Eversource energy audit

Home Energy Solutions? works by connecting you to rebates and incentives to make energy efficiency improvements - regardless of the heating fuel you use, if you're a homeowner, renter or landlord.

Based on your results, you may qualify for generous rebates and incentives. If you're on a lower or fixed income, you may qualify for additional benefits at little or no cost.

If your home has a crumbling foundation that has been verified either by a chemical analysis or by a qualified professional engineer, you may qualify for special offerings for energy efficiency services and equipment.

Through a Home Energy Assessment, an Energy Specialist finds energy-saving opportunities unique to your residence and you may receive access to rebates, incentives and 0% financing. You'll also receive energy-saving solutions crafted specifically for you, including:

Weatherization reduces drafts and helps your home keep warmed or cooled air in. This means electrified HVAC systems don't to work as hard to keep your home at a comfortable temperature. Plus, weatherizing your home can help you install correctly sized systems down the road.

We offer solutions for everyone. Depending on your household income and address you may qualify for additional income-based offerings on top of the base Home Energy Assessment.

These can include additional no-cost insulation and air sealing upgrades, new home appliances and upfront incentives to help over the cost of projects that must be completed before an approved insulation upgrade, such as removal of knob and tube wiring or vermiculite.

You'll use your household income and zip code to determine if you qualify for income-based programs. For example, if your family of four has an annual household income of $116,392 you would qualify. Visit Mass Save(R), sponsored by Eversource, to determine your eligibility. If you don't qualify for income-based programs, you can still sign up for a Home Energy Assessment.

A Home Energy Assessment can help you and your landlord discover opportunities for greater energy efficiency in your residence. Plus, you may receive efficient products at no cost.

After your assessment, your Energy Specialist will work with your landlord on pursuing larger improvements to the building such as insulation and air sealing that can help lower energy costs and improve your overall comfort. Possible incentives include:
