Havana, the vibrant capital of Cuba, offers a variety of souvenir shopping options that reflect its rich history, culture, and artistic flair. From traditional Cuban cigars to handmade crafts, there's something for every traveller to take home as a cherished memento of their visit.

One of the most popular shopping spots is the Mercado de Artesan?a San Jos?, a bustling market located in a renovated warehouse along Havana's waterfront. Here, visitors can browse through stalls filled with handmade goods such as paintings, pottery, textiles, and jewellery, all crafted by local artisans. This market provides an authentic Cuban shopping experience and a fun place to while away for a couple of hours.

But where do you go if you're looking for something truly unique and special? Less well-known are some of the cool, quirky, independent brands which have started to pop up around Havana. From stylish clothing and accessories to beautiful homeware and unique gifts, Cuban designers are making a name for themselves both locally and internationally.

In this blog post, we will explore 10 up-and-coming local brands and design spots in Havana that are doing things the Cuban way and creating truly amazing items using homegrown talent and making the most of whatever materials both recycled and locally sourced available in Cuba. Sustainable to the core, and a great way of supporting Cuban people and businesses, here are our recommendations for shopping in Havana;

? Visit their store in Old Havana: 403 Villegas, La Habana, Cuba (and while you're shopping ask them if they're holding any of their legendary parties whilst you're in Havana)

Cool, conscious and contemporary. If you're looking for something classic and stylish with a very Cuban twist, Dador should be top of your list. Each item is handmade locally using natural fabrics, making each piece completely one-of-a-kind and unique. Gorgeous linen trousers or dresses and shirts hand-embroidered with flowers, this brand really adopts the relaxed and elegant style of its hometown, Havana. If you're looking to add some unique Cuban garments to your wardrobe that are sophisticated yet contemporary.? Head to their store: 253 Amargura, La Habana, Cuba.

Street style more your speed? Nawe offers a curated selection of T-shirts, caps and bum bags, all with tattoo-inspired artwork. Think skater/surfer chic! They also make limited edition collabs with different local artists and designers so the brand and items feel really authentic and support Cuban talent. This brand is perfect if you're looking for some elevated basics, the perfect combination of casual and cool.

Ana and Maria are the young women behind Ama Havana, a fun and funky store-cum-cafe in the Vedado district of Havana. You'll find beaded and crocheted pieces like you've never seen before! Amazing crochet
